WHY THAT LAME BACK?

That morning lameness—those sharp pains when bending or lifting, make work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back—look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following this Keytesville resident's example.

Louis Huss, farmer, says: "I suffered with my kidneys. My back was in an awful condition and I could only work about one-third of the year. In the busiest time of the season I was laid up with my back. Every time I move I suffered. I was bothered with dizziness. My kidneys were weak and irregular and I had to get up often at night to pass the secretions. The secretions were filled with sediment and burned in passage. I started using Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me. The cure has lasted, too."

Why not sell 'em

Somebody wants those very things you have discarded, which have outgrown their usefulness to you. Why not find an outlet for them through the want column of The Chariton Courier?

Miss Willie Davis of Kiefer, Oklahoma, came Sunday for a visit with relatives.

The business men of Mendon had a little get to gether one day last week and decided to present to Lonnie Blackman a Ford touring car, it appearing that he had a lucky number.

LIMBURGER RUINS COAT OF MARSHAL; HE TAKES COUNT

Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 25.—When a United States deputy marshal from Kansas City walked into the Missouri Pacific depot Thursday morning he discovered a peculiar odor and began to search for a dead rat. His search being unsuccessful, he got his coat, put it on—and fainted.

After regaining consciousness the deputy discovered that, during his absence, he had been presented with half a pound of essence of limburger cheese, which had melted together with a photograph of his wife and several editions of a Kansas City newspaper.

He sent the coat to the cleaners. After using a large quantity of perfumed ironing wax to no avail, the cleaning artist advised the victim to bury the coat for the season.

STRANGE ITEMS OF NEWS FROM THE DAILY PRESS

Washington, Aug. 10. A man in London tried to hang himself. He was a poor hand at it, but he died just the same. The doctor testified that there was no sign of death by strangulation, so the coroner's jury brought in a verdict of "suicide by auto-suggestion," the first of its kind on record. The theory is that the man believed he was hanging himself, because he had a handkerchief looped over a bed post and about his neck, and the conviction that he was being slowly strangled succeeded in killing him. It is not thought that killing one's self by thinking one is dead will become popular.

In northern Montana, near Glacier National Park, is a colony of a million marmots. These little animals make a curious noise something between a yelp and a whistle. It is proposed to broadcast their chorus via radio, that wireless "fans" of America may hear the largest aggregation of animal voices in the world tuning up in a natural symphony.

I am told that good poker-players make the best lovers—there is so much bluff, you know, about each pursuit.

THE IDEAL PURGATIVE

As a purgative, Chamberlain's Tablets are the exact thing required. Strong enough for the most robust, mild enough for children. They cause an agreeable movement of the bowels without any of that terrible griping. They are easy and pleasant to take and agreeable to effect.

W. E. STEWART DISREGARDS JUSTICE SENTENCE

Some time in June W. E. Stewart was arrested and arraigned in Justice of Peace Trammel's court on the charge of petit larceny, was found guilty and fined $100 and costs. Execution was withheld on the fine on condition that Stewart pay the costs and leave the county and never return. Stewart seemingly regarded the action of the court as a joke and has been very conspicuous in the south part of the county. Justice of Peace Trammel being informed of this directed Constable Cruise to bring him before the court, where payment of the fine was demanded because the terms under which the stay of execution was given had been violated. Stewart being unable to raise the $100 was sent to jail.—Press Spectator.

Word reaches the Courier that Wm. Drew of Muskegon is seriously ill of bowel trouble. Dr. Freeman of Pee Dee is the attending physician.

EARLY MORNING WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Alice Clavin and Mr. Clarence J. Strub, whose engagement was announced in last week's Brunswick, was celebrated at St. Boniface church in this city, at 5 o'clock a. m., on Monday, August 21, 1922. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father M. Vonderstein, pastor of St. Boniface church, and was witnessed by only the immediate relatives and one or two intimate friends of the bride and groom. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Reuben Strub, brother of the groom, and the ring bearer was the groom's little nephew, Master Paul John Strub, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben D. Strub. The witnesses were Messrs. Alois and Raymond Strub, brother and cousin of the groom.

The evident object of the bridal party in planning the wedding for such an early hour was partly to spring a surprise on the many friends of the bride and groom, and also to give the bridal party an early start on an outing trip to the Ozarks which Mr. Strub and bride had planned as a part of their honeymoon. Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party went to the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Mary Strub where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served, and about 7 o'clock the bride and groom, accompanied by the groom's mother, Mrs. Mary Strub; Miss Dorothy Kelliker, Mr. Raymond Strub and Rev. M. Vonderstein, left in two automobiles for the trip to the Ozark country. They expected to reach Nevada the first day and will spend about two weeks on the trip, visiting several outing places in Southern Missouri and northern Arkansas.

The marriage of this popular young couple marks the culmination of a happy romance of several years, and fulfills the expectations of the many friends who had looked forward to a happy union of these splendid young people. Mr. Strub is associated with the firm of Strub Bros., one of Brunswick's oldest and most substantial mercantile houses, and also is a registered pharmacist, having completed a course in the Bowen Institute of Pharmacy, and successfully passed

Mr. Strub is associated with the firm of Strub Bros., one of Brunswick's oldest and most substantial mercantile houses, and also is a registered pharmacist, having completed a course in the Bowen Institute of Pharmacy, and successfully passed the State Board of Pharmacy some time ago. He is a young man of pleasing address and jolly, likeable good nature, reliable and industrious and enjoys the respect and confidence of the entire community. The bride is well known to the people of this community as a young lady of attractive appearance and refined manner, accomplished in social and domestic affairs, and splendidly equipped for the duties of the home. For a number of years she has been employed as a saleslady in the dry goods department at Knight & Rucker's and in this position her prompt and efficient services have been very pleasing to her employers as well as to the many patrons of the store.

The Brunswicker takes pleasure in joining the many friends of Mr. Strub and bride in extending to them hearty congratulations and good wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.—Brunswick.
